

JOC MAY 2010 IRISH TOUR

&

subculture

tripod

PRESS RELEASE

With an already packed out tour schedule for the summer, the world's Number 24 DJ John O'Callaghan is delighted to announce his residency at Cream Amnesia in Ibiza this summer, as well as being named the Global Gathering resident for 2010. With all this touring in John's hectic diary, he wanted to make sure to tour his native Ireland before his jet setting summer starts.

John has locked in 4 dates around the country starting in the Savoy in Cork (May 2nd). Having not been there in 2 years, JOC is returning with an impressive lineup; taking along Dutch wonder talent Ummet Ozcan and comeback girl Tylor-Leigh to the table. From South to North, John headlines the infamous Relic in Newry on May 21st where Irish legends Timmy & Tommy will join him on the lineup alongside the increasingly popular Ozcan. The following day John gets on the road to Voodoo in Letterkenny where he will be accompanied by homeboys Timmy & Timmy once again to rock the club to the late hours.

Following on from his sellout show in Northern Ireland's super-club LUSH! Where doors had to be closed at 10pm due to the massive numbers of dedicated clubbers who travelled from far and wide, John O'Callaghan brings his Irish tour to a close with his Subculture branded night in what is commonly known as the best club in Dublin; Tripod.

Speaking of the upcoming show at Tripod John said, "I have been to Tripod dozens of times as a clubber, even back when it was the Redbox. It is known as the best club in Dublin and I can see why. The sound and lighting in there creates such a great buzz, and I can't wait to bring the Subculture night there to really see what we can do!"

June 6th 2010 will see John's tech-trance style accompanied by Tom Colantonio, America's hottest trance DJ who is a firm favourite with Paul van Dyk, John Askew & JOC alike. Tom is flying over for his exclusive Irish debut at Subculture! Tone Diary enigma Marcus Schossow returns to his growing Irish fan base to bring his futuristic nu-prog sounds to the clubbing faithful. Music wise, this lineup broadcasts Subculture's cutting edge philosophy. See you there!

subculture - Bank Holiday Sunday, June 6th

JOC

TOM COLANTONIO

Marcus Schossow